PAINTING

Painting produces an immediate change in your atmosphere, whether a child's bedroom is painted or if you want to change the colour of the whole interior or exterior.

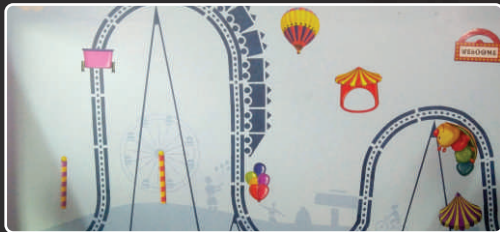

Painting the exterior of a home or the interior walls and trim also adds other value besides having a different colour. A fresh coat of paint inside can boost morale and help keep the family healthy. Painting the exterior adds curb appeal, which is a valuable addition.

Interior Exterior Painting

Painting the exterior of a home or the interior walls and trim also adds other value besides having a different colour. A fresh coat of paint inside can boost morale and help keep the family healthy. Painting the exterior adds curb appeal, which is a valuable addition. Painting the interior surfaces will help to resist wear and tear and protect walls and trim from moisture. When permanent stains or marks are difficult to remove, painting the house inside and out will help to hide these defects.

Texture Painting

Concept Wall Painting

Keeping a good coat of quality paint on the exterior of the home will help protect it from the weather, particularly moisture from rain and sun.

Even though it is amazing to think about, changing the colors that surround you can affect your entire outlook on your home and living conditions. Colors create an ambience and environment that affects mood, energy and disposition. The effects of color on human beings is well known to scientists and researchers.

Water Proofing

Waterproofing is a construction measure designed to prevent water from damaging a building. It can be done during or after building work to protect the structure from water damage caused by rain, moisture and leaks. Water damage can result in serious issues to a building's structure and appearance. It can damage not only the surface, but also affects the health and safety of those around the affected building.

Building construction is an important investment, therefore, it is important to select good waterproofing contractor like us, who will provide professional advice on leak repairs and other issues that need to be addressed. Our team have the experience in waterproofing high-rise buildings. Our expertise will help identify the priorities to keep the building in good condition.

Floor Coating

- ◆ PU/Epoxy based wall coatings
- ◆ Decorative Epoxy flooring
- ◆ Anti-static floor coatings
- ◆ Car Park Coatings
- ◆ Sports Floor Coatings

Epoxies and Polyurethanes have a vast range of applications from industrial floorings to rooftops, metal surfaces, residential floors etc. We would like to introduce ourselves as goto flooring solutions company for Epoxy, Polyurethane, EPU, PU Concrete, Polyurea based floor coatings and toppings and have developed a series of special PU / Epoxy systems. Epoxy/PU Floor Coatings on Industrial Floors require a lot of experience/understanding and a very skilled and trained team to execute.

Heat Reflective Coating

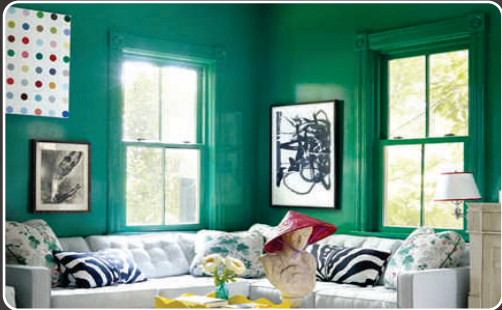

Ceilings can be hot in summers, but not for those living in apartments (not the top floor). But for most single-family homes or apartments at the top of the building, the ceilings face direct sun. Most construction materials are good conductors of heat.

Heat reflective Coating will extend the life of the roof, by reducing heat transfer into the building, decreasing thermal shock (thermal expansion and contraction of the roof membrane), and helping to mitigate leaks.

Reflective coatings also can reduce heat energy costs and improve the aesthetics of the roof.

The coating becomes the first layer of UV and waterproofing protection for the roof, and helps reduce expansion and contraction (thermal shock) of the roof.

Toilet Renovation

Assess whether existing fixtures, fittings or finishes (floor or wall tiles, toilet suite, screens, mirrors) can be incorporated into the new design. Resurfacing or refitting existing fixtures and fittings can help cut costs.
